Proposed Regulations
FINANCE
	By-law Amending the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Deposit Insurance Policy By-law , to harmonize the policy of deposit insurance with recent amendments to the CDIC Act. For example, the prohibition against the disclosure of prescribed information contained in section 10.1 of the By-law will be made permanent by the Amending By-law. This ensures consistency with the prohibition contained in the Supervisory Information Regulations enacted pursuant to the Bank Act and the Trust and Loan Companies Act, which came into force on January 31, 2001. In addition, CDIC has included changes of a more technical nature to clarify existing terms and conditions of the policy of deposit insurance. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on January 26, 2002)	Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act
	By-law Amending the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Differential Premiums By-law , to update the criteria or factors to be taken into account in determining the category in which a member institution is classified and fixing or determining the amount of the annual premium applicable to each category may only be made by by-law. The substantive amendments contained in the amendments, mostly technical in nature, are to sections 7 and 27 and to Schedule 2, Part 2, Reporting Form. Sections 1, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 of the By-law require amendment due to the changes to section 7. Section 13 of the By-law is being repealed since it was a transitory provision which is no longer needed. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on January 26, 2002)	Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act
FOREIGN AFFAIRS
	Passenger Information Regulations (Preclearance Act) , to specify the advance passenger information that must be provided by airlines to U.S. preclearance officers in accordance with the Agreement on Air Transport Preclearance between The Government of Canada and The Government of the United States of America (the Agreement) and the Act, to implement intransit preclearance. Annex I of the Agreement states that intransit preclearance will be implemented in Vancouver (where there has been an intransit preclearance pilot project since 1997), Toronto's terminals 2 and 3, and in Montréal (Dorval). It will also be implemented at Calgary Airport upon notification that its facilities are ready for implementation of intransit preclearance. Other airports are also eligible for intransit preclearance if they meet the standards established in the Agreement and Act. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on January 19, 2002)	Preclearance Act

Manner of Disposal of Detained, Seized or Forfeited Goods Regulations (Preclearance Act), to set out the manner in which preclearance officers (U.S. officials preclearing passengers and goods into the United States) may dispose of detained or seized goods. More specifically: subsection 2(1) of these Regulations requires a preclearance officer to transfer any good detained under paragraph 26(1)(a) of the Act without delay to a Canadian officer if, for example, the good poses a risk of contamination under public health, food inspection or plant and animal health laws; subsection 3(1) of these Regulations provides the procedures that preclearance officers must follow with respect to other goods detained under paragraph 26(1)(a) of the Act (This provision allows, but does not require, a preclearance officer to detain goods temporarily until, for example, a traveller can obtain a permit or otherwise meet requirements for entry of the goods into the United States.); subsection 3(2) of these Regulations specifies the conditions under which goods referred to in subsection 3(1) of these Regulations will be forfeited to the Government of the United States; and section 4 of these Regulations provides for the procedures that preclearance officers must follow with respect to goods detained under paragraph 26(1)(b) of the Act (i.e. goods designated by regulations, the importation, exportation, possession or handling of which is prohibited, controlled or regulated by an Act of Parliament). These Regulations require preclearance officers to provide written notifications to travellers whose goods have been detained, setting out their rights and obligations and how they may regain possession of their goods. Goods detained by a preclearance officer and transferred to a Canadian officer will be dealt with in accordance with Canadian law. These Regulations apply at all Canadian airports where preclearance of passengers and their goods destined for the United States is available. This currently includes the following airports: Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa and Montréal (Dorval). (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on January 19, 2002)

FISHERIES

Ontario Fishery Regulations, 1989, amendment, to make a number of changes necessary for the conservation and protection of a variety of Ontario's fish stocks. More specifically, the changes would: adjust the minimum size limits for muskellunge throughout the province; establish a limit on yellow perch, to allow anglers to take 50 fish in one day or at any time possess 50 fish; to ease restrictions for several species of fish (including brown and rainbow trout) for fishermen in the Grand River between Paris and Brantford, Ontario; to allow anglers in the anglers to use two lines for angling from a boat in the main basin of Lake Huron; to establish 12 new sanctuaries where all fishing is prohibited during specified close times, including several in the Territorial District of Sudbury and one on the Ottawa River; to open an additional number of stocked lakes to year round angling for brook trout; to regulate fishing on Lake Ontario under a single fishing division while the waters of the main basin of Lake Huron will be regulated under a new division; and to make some technical corrections to discrepancies between the English and French texts of the Regulations. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Fisheries Act

FOOD AND DRUG

Food and Drug Regulations (1227 — Prohibition of Certain Veterinary Drugs), amendment, to establish prohibitions against the sale for administration of this class of veterinary drugs in food-producing animals, the sale of treated animals for food use and the sale of food products derived from treated animals. In addition, Health Canada proposes amendments to clarify and extend the current regulatory prohibitions on the sale of di-ethylstilbestrol or other stilbenes for administration to food-producing animals. More specifically, Health Canada proposes to general prohibitions against the sale of: 5-nitroimidazole compounds for administration to food-producing animals; animals treated with these drugs and used for the production of food; food products derived from animals treated with these drugs; and food products containing residues of these drugs. The proposed Regulations would also clarify and extend the prohibitions against the sale for administration of diethylstilbestrol (DES) or other stilbenes in food-producing animals by revoking the prohibition specifically mentioning administration of DES as a growth promotant and by establishing the following general prohibitions on the sale of: DES or other stilbene compounds for administration to food-producing animals; animals treated with these drugs and used for the production of food; food products derived from animals treated with these drugs; and food products containing residues of these drugs. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Food and Drugs
Act

Food and Drug Regulations (1247 — Establishment Licences and Good Manufacturing Practices), amendment, to list in the Regulations, the designated regulatory authorities in countries that have signed Mutual Recognition Agreements (MRA) in the drugs sector with Canada. This amendment would recognize the implementation of the MRA between Switzerland and Canada. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Food and Drugs
Act

Food and Drug Regulations (1306 —Pirimicarb), amendment, to establish acceptable maximum residue limits (MRLs) for pirimicarb, and its metabolites, at a level of 0.2 p.p.m. in spinach and 0.1 p.p.m. in celery. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Food and Drugs
Act

TAX CHANGES

Income Tax Regulations (Insurance Business Policy Reserves), amendment, to make substantive amendments to Part XIV consequential on newly added subsection 18(9.02) of the Income Tax Act. That subsection requires an insurer to deduct policy acquisition costs over the term of the policy, rather than in the first year of the policy, and generally applies for taxation years that begin after 1999. More specifically, the proposed amendments would replace the term “net premium” with “premium paid by the policy holder” throughout Part XIV of the Regulations. Generally, these substantive amendments apply to the taxation years that begin after 1999. However, if a taxpayer, pursuant to subsection 9(11) of the Income Tax Amendments Act, 2000 that received Royal Assent on June 14, 2001, files an election to have subsection 18(9.02) of the ITA apply for taxation years that end after 1997, these amendments to the Regulations also apply to taxation years that end after 1997. FISHERIES

Ontario Fishery Regulations, 1989, amendment, to make a number of changes necessary for the conservation and protection of a variety of Ontario's fish stocks. More specifically, the changes would: adjust the minimum size limits for muskellunge throughout the province; establish a limit on yellow perch, to allow anglers to take 50 fish in one day or at any time possess 50 fish; to ease restrictions for several species of fish (including brown and rainbow trout) for fishermen in the Grand River between Paris and Brantford, Ontario; to allow anglers in the anglers to use two lines for angling from a boat in the main basin of Lake Huron; to establish 12 new sanctuaries where all fishing is prohibited during specified close times, including several in the Territorial District of Sudbury and one on the Ottawa River; to open an additional number of stocked lakes to year round angling for brook trout; to regulate fishing on Lake Ontario under a single fishing division while the waters of the main basin of Lake Huron will be regulated under a new division; and to make some technical corrections to discrepancies between the English and French texts of the Regulations. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Fisheries Act

FOOD AND DRUG

Food and Drug Regulations (1227 — Prohibition of Certain Veterinary Drugs), amendment, to establish prohibitions against the sale for administration of this class of veterinary drugs in food-producing animals, the sale of treated animals for food use and the sale of food products derived from treated animals. In addition, Health Canada proposes amendments to clarify and extend the current regulatory prohibitions on the sale of di-ethylstilbestrol or other stilbenes for administration to food-producing animals. More specifically, Health Canada proposes to general prohibitions against the sale of: 5-nitroimidazole compounds for administration to food-producing animals; animals treated with these drugs and used for the production of food; food products derived from animals treated with these drugs; and food products containing residues of these drugs. The proposed Regulations would also clarify and extend the prohibitions against the sale for administration of diethylstilbestrol (DES) or other stilbenes in food-producing animals by revoking the prohibition specifically mentioning administration of DES as a growth promotant and by establishing the following general prohibitions on the sale of: DES or other stilbene compounds for administration to food-producing animals; animals treated with these drugs and used for the production of food; food products derived from animals treated with these drugs; and food products containing residues of these drugs. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Food and Drugs
Act

Food and Drug Regulations (1247 — Establishment Licences and Good Manufacturing Practices), amendment, to list in the Regulations, the designated regulatory authorities in countries that have signed Mutual Recognition Agreements (MRA) in the drugs sector with Canada. This amendment would recognize the implementation of the MRA between Switzerland and Canada. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Food and Drugs
Act

Food and Drug Regulations (1306 —Pirimicarb), amendment, to establish acceptable maximum residue limits (MRLs) for pirimicarb, and its metabolites, at a level of 0.2 p.p.m. in spinach and 0.1 p.p.m. in celery. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 2, 2002)

Food and Drugs

TAX CHANGES

Income Tax Regulations (Insurance Business Policy Reserves), amendment, to make substantive amendments to Part XIV consequential on newly added subsection 18(9.02) of the Income Tax Act. That subsection requires an insurer to deduct policy acquisition costs over the term of the policy, rather than in the first year of the policy, and generally applies for taxation years that begin after 1999. More specifically, the proposed amendments would replace the term “net premium” with “premium paid by the policy holder” throughout Part XIV of the Regulations. Generally, these substantive amendments apply to the taxation years that begin after 1999. However, if a taxpayer, pursuant to subsection 9(11) of the Income Tax Amendments Act, 2000 that received Royal Assent on June 14, 2001, files an election to have subsection 18(9.02) of the ITA apply for taxation years that end after 1997, these amendments to the Regulations also apply to taxation years that end after 1997. AGRICULTURE

Agriculture and Agri-Food Administrative Monetary Penalties Regulations, amendment, to incorporate violations of the national ID program into the Regulations so that the authority exists for CFIA inspectors to issue monetary penalties in the event of non-compliance under the Canadian Cattle Identification Program. The proposed amendment sets out fines for violations under those sections of the Health of Animals Regulations addressing cattle and bison identification. The ability to issue monetary penalties will enable CFIA inspectors to respond to violations of the national ID provisions in a timely, effective and efficient manner. The monetary penalty for the majority of cattle ID violations will be $500 per violation, or $250 if paid within 15 days. The proposed effective date for the amendment is July 1, 2002. The majority of the changes clarify the testing procedures by introducing more detailed guidelines under which current performance requirements are to be evaluated. The test locations of the driver's eye points are more clearly defined, and instructions are provided for rotating the camera position to represent driver eye and neck movement in accordance with Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) practices. Mirror adjustment procedures are also clarified, and the front bumper is defined for instances when that bumper is fitted with attached accessories such as crossing-control arms. As a result of a national public consultation on bus safety, it was decided to propose, in addition to changes made to the testing procedure, a smaller minimum average radius of curvature for the System A convex mirrors. There are no changes to existing field-of-view requirements. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 23, 2002)

FINANCE

Guidelines Respecting Control in Fact for the Purpose of Subsection 377(1) of the Bank Act; and Guidelines Respecting Control in Fact for the Purpose of Subsection 407.2(1) of the Insurance Companies Act, to set out the policy objectives and factors that the Minister would consider in assessing whether an acquisition of a significant interest in a financial institution would respect the prohibition on control. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 9, 2002)

Bank Act & Insurance Companies Act

FISHERIES

Marine Mammal Regulations, amendment, to establish separate licences for commercial and non-Aboriginal personal-use sealing, licences for vessels greater than 65 feet to collect seals from sealing vessels, licences and licence prerequisites to allow the killing of nuisance seals, hunting methods to establish a clearer determination of death before bleeding and skinning, a requirement to land either the pelt or carcass of seals taken by commercial or personal-use sealers. The amendments also extend the application existing gear restrictions to commercial sealing throughout Atlantic Canada. For sealers using hakapiks or clubs, the amendments introduce a requirement that sealers manually check the skull or administer a blinking reflex test prior to bleeding and skinning the carcass. The blinking reflex consists of checking the corneal reflex by hitting the seal in the eyes to ensure that the animal is dead. Sealers using firearms would also be required to administer a blinking reflex test before skinning or bleeding the carcass. The amendment will introduce a requirement for both commercial and personal-use sealers to land either the seal pelt or carcass, or both. This amendment will make it illegal to harvest a seal for organs or other individual parts and discard the rest of the animal. Gear restrictions that apply in most of Atlantic Canada and Quebec are extended to apply to commercial sealing in Labrador. This would prevent the use of nets for any commercial sealing in Atlantic Canada and would ensure a consistent standard for all commercial sealers. The use of nets is considered inhumane. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 2, 2002)

Fisheries Act

IMMIGRATION

Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations, to consolidate the processes that apply to seizure of documents, vehicles and other objects under the Act; in consequence, protection traditionally reserved for owners of vehicles is extended, under the new Act, to owners of any type of seized object (it will now be possible, for example, to apply to the Minister for the return of documents and objects other than vehicles); to require the Minister to make a reasonable effort to identify and give notice of seizure to lawful owners of seized objects; under the current Act, it is sufficient to inform anyone who may claim an interest in the seized object; to establish a process whereby seized vehicles are no longer, by operation of law, the property of the Government; under the IRP Regulations, such vehicles must be returned or disposed of in specific ways; to ensure that refusals to return vehicles are final and subject only to judicial review by the Federal Court (such refusals can no longer be appealed); to provide a simpler process to protect the rights of lawful owners whose vehicles are not in their use or possession at the time of seizure; under the current Act, lawful owners must obtain an order from a provincial court judge stating that their interests are not affected by the seizures; to simplify this process by allowing lawful owners to apply to the Minister for the return of their vehicles; to specify the circumstances under which seized objects may be returned, as well as objective criteria that must be satisfied prior to such return; to permit the return of seized vehicles to their lawful owners on payment of a $5,000 fee, provided that the lawful owner demonstrates that he or she did not profit from the fraudulent or improper use of the vehicle, and that he or she are unlikely to contravene the Act in future; oblige the Minister to dispose of seized objects that are not returned; and do not retain current provisions regarding declaratory judgments by a provincial court wherein mortgagee and lien-holder interests may be declared unaffected by the seizure. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 9, 2002)

Immigration and Refugee Protection Act

TAX CHANGES

Insurable Earnings and Collection of Premiums Regulations, amendment, to remove the detailed calculations that must be changed each year, and replace them with a single formula that will remain constant. The Regulations are deemed to come into effect on January 1, 2002. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 2, 2002)

Employment Insurance Act

TRANSPORTATION

Port Authorities Operations Regulations, amendment, to make a number of housekeeping amendments; to add a new part to Schedule 1 setting out requirement for activities in the port of Hamilton; to add new activities to the activity lists in Schedule 1 for the Port Authorities of Thunder Bay, Toronto and Windsor; to repeal Subsection 10(2) so it will not be possible anymore to prosecute the owner of a vehicle when someone else commits the offence of operating a vehicle unsafely; to make changes to the wording of subsection 11(3) so it is limited to parking and stopping offences; and to repeal the Hamilton Harbour Commissioners' General By-law and the Hamilton Harbour Commissioners' Land Use and Development By-Law. Proposed Regulations

FINANCE

Cost of Borrowing (Authorized Foreign Banks) Regulations; Cost of Borrowing (Retail Associations) Regulations; Support Orders and Support Provisions (Banks and Authorized Foreign Banks) Regulations; Support Orders and Support Provisions (Cooperative Credit Associations) Regulations; and Support Orders and Support Provisions (Trust and Loan Companies) Regulations, to continue the establishment of the regulatory regime under the An Act to Establish the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada and to Amend Certain Acts in Relation to Financial Institutions (FCA Act). The proposed Cost of Borrowing (Authorized Foreign Banks) Regulations and the proposed Cost of Borrowing (Retail Associations) Regulations are required to implement the harmonized rules for authorized foreign banks and retail associations. These mirror the regulations introduced for banks and trust and insurance companies in September 2001. The Support Orders and Support Provisions Regulations set out the rules respecting the designation by a bank/company/association of a place in any province for the service of enforcement notices in respect of support orders and support provisions. They also prescribe the manner in which a bank/company/association shall publicize the locations of designated offices and the information that must accompany an enforcement notice. It is expected that another 30 regulations will be brought forward for publication within the next few months. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 16, 2002)

Bank Act

JUSTICE

Judges Act (Widow and Children Annuities) Regulations, amendment, to ensure equal treatment under the law for common-law opposite-sex and common-law same-sex partners, resulting in the replacement of the term "widow" by the term "survivor". The amendments are required in light of the need to be consistent with the Modernization of Benefits and Obligations Act (Bill C-23). Bill C-23 amended 68 federal statutes to extend benefits and obligations to common-law same-sex partners on the same basis as common-law opposite-sex partners, while maintaining the clear legal distinction between married and unmarried relationships. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 16, 2002)

Judges Act

Judges Act (Removal Allowance) Order, amendment, to ensure equal treatment under the law for common-law opposite-sex and common-law same-sex partners, resulting in the addition of the terms "common-law partner" and "survivor". Some editorial amendments have also been included to clarify and update the language in the Order, for example, by providing gender-neutral language. The amendments are required in light of the need to carry into effect the provisions of the Modernizing of Benefits and Obligations Act (Bill C-23). Bill C-23 amended 68 federal statutes to extend benefits and obligations to common-law same-sex partners on the same basis as common-law opposite-sex partners, while maintaining the clear legal distinction between married and unmarried relationships. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 16, 2002)

PARKS

Historic Canals Regulations, amendment, to allow for the use of pleasure craft, such as cabin cruisers and motorboats, on the Lachine Canal. Currently, the use of motorized vessels on the Canal between Lock Number 5 and the Bonaventure Highway overpass is prohibited under the proposed Regulations. The Regulations would also be amended to make it a requirement for any person passing through a lock on the Lachine Canal to first obtain a permit, as required in the other historic canals. Further technical amendments are proposed to reflect Parks Canada organizational changes that have taken place over the years, that is, references to the Canadian Parks Service are replaced by references to the Parks Canada Agency. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 16, 2002)

Department of Transport Act

TRANSPORTATION

Pollutant Discharge Reporting Regulations, 1995, amendment; and Pollutant Substances Regulations, amendment, to make a number of minor administrative changes. The proposed amendments to the Pollutant Discharge Reporting Regulations, 1995 (the Regulations) would provide a clearer definition of "Waters under Canadian jurisdiction" in section 2 of the Regulations. Also included is a consequential amendment to paragraph 4(a) to clarify that the Regulations apply to the "shipping safety control zones" as prescribed in the Arctic Waters Pollution Prevention Act. Section 3 would be repealed to eliminate a duplication of section 21 of the Dangerous Goods Shipping Regulations which prescribes substances that are identified as marine pollutants in the International Maritime Dangerous Goods Code to be pollutants for the purposes of Part XV of the Canada Shipping Act. Paragraph 5(1)(b), which refers to section 3, would be repealed as a consequential amendment. The proposed amendments to the Pollutant Substances Regulations would: amend the title of the Regulations to more accurately reflect the intent of the regulated subject; ensure that prohibitions are accurately outlined; and rectify discrepancies between these Regulations and the Dangerous Chemicals and Noxious Liquid Substances Regulations between the English and the French text and between these Regulations and the Pollutant Discharge Reporting Regulations, 1995. Employment Insurance Regulations, amendment, to implement a system to allow the Canada Employment Insurance Commission to charge interest on debts that are owed to the Employment Insurance Account. The proposed regulations would establish the following rules about payment of interest: The characteristics of the EI Interest Program are as follows: interest will be charged only on debts resulting from misrepresentation by the claimant; in the case of debts that do not arise from a claimant's misrepresentation, no interest will be charged; interest will not be charged on debts that arise from a Commission error in benefit payment; interest will start from the date on which the debtor is notified of the amount owing; interest will be charged at the Bank of Canada average rate plus 3 percent, and it will be calculated daily and compounded monthly; amounts repaid by the claimant will be applied first to amounts of outstanding interest and then to the amount of the oldest EI debt within the six-year recovery period prescribed by the EI Act; interest will not be charged while the decision that gave rise to the debt is under appeal or other review. The Commission may also waive or reduce the amount of interest where: the administration costs of the collection of interest would exceed the amount of the interest owing; the interest is payable in respect of an outstanding debt that has already been settled in whole, or in part, in favour of the debtor; or the accrual of interest on a particular penalty or amount of indebtedness would result in undue hardship to the debtor. Interest charges will cease in the following situations: with the repayment of the debt; upon the death of the debtor; if the amount of the debt has been written off; or if the accrued interest is written off under section 56. ENVIRONMENT

On-Road Vehicle and Engine Emission Regulations, to introduce more stringent national emission standards for on-road vehicles and engines. The proposed Regulations for controlling emissions from on-road vehicles and engines will come into effect on September 1, 2003. The proposed Regulations, which would replace the emission Regulations previously adopted under the Motor Vehicle Safety Act, would continue the past practice of aligning Canadian standards with the federal emission standards of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The proposed Regulations apply to persons in the business of manufacturing, distributing or importing on-road vehicles and engines for sale in Canada. They also set requirements for on-road vehicles and engines being imported by individuals. The proposed Regulations specify the classes of on-road vehicles and engines that are subject to the emission requirements. These classes are aligned with corresponding EPA rules. The prescribed classes are "light-duty vehicles", "light-duty trucks", "heavy-duty vehicles" and "motorcycles", as in the past. Two new classes, "medium-duty passenger vehicles" and "complete heavy-duty vehicles", are added as part of the proposed regulatory framework. Under the proposed Regulations, heavy-duty engines will be directly regulated for the first time whereas under the Motor Vehicle Safety Act these engines were regulated only when installed in heavy-duty vehicles. The new "medium-duty passenger vehicle" class is designed to subject larger passenger vans and sport utility vehicles (SUVs) to the same set of emission standards as light-duty vehicles instead of the heavy-duty vehicle emission standards. During any phase-in period, every model of vehicle or engine that is certified by the EPA and that is sold concurrently in Canada and the United States is required to meet the same standard in Canada as it does in the United States. The final phased-in standards apply to all vehicles and engines sold in Canada in the model year that they apply to 100 percent of a class of vehicles or engines in the United States. Vehicles and engines are required to comply with emission standards for a defined "full useful life". (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 30, 2002)

Edmonton Garrison Heliport Zoning Regulations, to limit construction of buildings and other structures to heights which would not constitute a hazard in the vicinity of the heliport or to the visual and instrument approach paths around the heliport. They also provide for the regulation and removal, if necessary, of natural growth which exceeds the prescribed height limitations, and inhibit certain land uses which would tend to attract birds and increase the bird hazard. Proposed Regulations

EMPLOYMENT

Employment Insurance Regulations, amendment, to make a number of clarifications in language. They include changes to: paragraph 37(2)(d), to correct the prior wording that could result in an employer not being allowed to pay a top-up amount to a claimant who occupied more than one employment since this amount, combined with the claimant's benefit rate, would have exceeded 95 percent of the claimant's normal weekly earnings from that employer.; section 38 Article 38, to add a title before section 38 and to make a minor change to clarify the purpose of that section; to add paragraph 91(2)(a), to refer to the maiden name of the claimant's mother as a form of additional security for claimants when employment insurance (EI) applications for benefit are filed via the Internet; section 92, to make it easier to make changes relating to direct deposit of EI payments, to allow claimants to make certain changes by telephone or electronically, subject to the verification of a claimant's identity using secured pass codes. ance Act

ENVIRONMENT

Hazardous Materials Information Review Regulations, amendment, to introduce provisions that provide further clarity to user fees to be disbursed by claimants who avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining an exemption, under the Hazardous Materials Information Review Act (HMIRA), to disclose information that is otherwise required to be disclosed by law. The proposed changes include client suggestions to improve service delivery by simplifying the fee structure and reducing the amount of information to be submitted in support of a claim. The proposed Regulations provide for a new fee schedule for filing and refiling of both single or grouped claims. The complex grouping criterion currently in existence is being replaced, for fee purposes, with a simpler flat-fee approach based on the notion that a group of claims filed at the same time will qualify for a progressive reduction in the fee payable per claim. Claims will be categorized as original or refiled and definitions will be amended accordingly. Original claims for exemption will be governed by one fee schedule while refiled claims for exemption (claims being filed for a second time, or more) will be subject to a distinct and lower fee schedule. Under the present Regulations, claimants benefit from a volume discount fee when filing numerous claims simultaneously. In order to ensure that claimants retain this advantage under the new proposed Regulations, a three-tiered fee structure was developed allowing claimants to benefit from reduced fees when filing or refiling numerous claims at once. Claimants will also retain the existing fee reduction for small businesses. The proposed amendments will also provide for a non-fee-related initiative: the reduction of the current requirements relating to the provision of information in support of a claim for exemption. This will be achieved by reducing the amount of information to be provided up front by claimants, upon filing an original claim or upon refiling a claim. The reduced requirements represent the minimum supporting information required to allow the decision-maker to assess the validity of a claim while still meeting statutory requirements. For those exceptional cases where the information provided under the new proposed Regulations will prove to be insufficient, the decision-maker will have the ability to request additional information under the

FINANCE
	Canadian Payments Association Election of Directors Regulations; and Retail Association Regulations, to implement regulations consistent with the financial services regulatory policy framework under An Act to establish the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada and to amend certain Acts in relation to financial institutions (FCA Act). The CPA Election of Directors Regulations would: allocate six director seats to banks, two seats to credit union centrals, and four seats to the remaining five classes outlined in section 4 of the Act (i.e., trust and loan companies, money market mutual funds, securities dealers, life insurance companies, and other members); establish how the four seats are to be allocated among the five remaining classes; limit the number of directors from affiliated institutions and direct participants in the Association's payments systems; bar non-members (e.g., industry associations) from directorships; and increase the size of the Executive Committee from five to eight members and allocate the seats among the Association's seven classes. The Retail Association Regulations would designate as "retail associations" an organization established under The Cooperative Credit Associations Act (the CCAA), on approval of the Minister, that offers financial services to persons and entities outside the traditional cooperative movement, including directly to the public, thereby enabling such an association to take advantage of various expanded powers afforded to retail associations and subjects it to additional consumer protection rules and prudential safeguards in the FCA Act. Schedule VI of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA) would be expanded to include all precursors listed in the 88 Convention; these substances are also included in the schedule to the new Regulations and would be removed from the Exemption Regulations as applicable. Two classes of precursors, Class A and Class B would be established. Class A precursors are essential components of illicit substances such as methamphetamine, MDMA (ecstasy), cocaine, heroin, LSD, and PCP; Class B precursors are mostly solvents and reagents used in clandestine manufacturing processes. The Regulations include an exemption scheme for mixtures or preparations that are shown to pose little risk of diversion to clandestine laboratories. Otherwise, the proposed Regulations include a licence and import/export permit scheme for Class A precursors, a registration and export permit scheme for Class B precursors, and general record keeping and reporting requirements for both classes. Currently, there are no cost recovery provisions in these proposed Regulations; however, consideration will be given to implementing a cost recovery program for licences and permits within the next years. FOOD AND DRUG

Regulations Amending the Food and Drug Regulations (1302 — Addition of Colouring Agent to Paragraph C.01.040.2(4)(a)), to add Acid Violet 43 (Ext. D & C Violet No. 2; C.I. 60730) to the Food and Drug Regulations, paragraph C.01.040.2(4)(a), the list of colouring agents permitted in drugs for external use. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 11, 2002)

Food and Drugs Act

PARKS

National Parks Lease and Licence of Occupation Regulations (1991), amendment, to update provisions relating to rental rates and fees for leases and licences of occupation that are set out in the Regulations. The amendments to the rent provisions have an impact mainly on leases situated within the national parks in western Canada. A number of the lease arrangements would also include and offer of a new rent option. The last updates to rental rates for properties in the national parks took place in 1991. Other changes are being made to improve the clarity of the Regulations and to adapt to the new terminology used in the Canada National Parks Act, which was brought into force on February 19, 2001. Because of the lack of interest and problems associated with acquiring property assessment data, rent options based on provincial assessment values are being repealed. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 11, 2002)

Canada National Parks Act

TRANSPORTATION

Transportation of Dangerous Goods Regulations, amendment, to correct errors, oversights and omissions resulting from the recent publication of the TDG Regulations in the Canada Gazette, Part II on August 15, 2001. The amendments are made to the references in the TDG Regulations to the International Maritime Dangerous Goods Code (IMDG Code) published by the International Maritime Organization, the Technical Instructions for the Safe Transport of Dangerous Goods by Air published by the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO Technical Instructions) and the National Standards of Canada that have been revised to address containers that are intended to remain on a vehicle, such as slip tanks, to update the rail standard that has been, for example, reformatted and rewritten in clearer language, and to introduce emergency discharge control systems for highway tanks and portable tanks used to transport compressed gases. The proposed changes would come into force August 15, 2002. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 11, 2002)

Proposed Regulations

FINANCE

Credit Information (Insurance Companies) Regulations, amendment, to ensure that prohibitions on the sharing of credit-related information by insurance companies reflect the structural arrangements that will be permitted under the new holding company regime. The restrictions on an insurance company sharing credit information have been extended to affiliates that are not subsidiaries to ensure they apply in the context of a holding company structure. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 25, 2002)

Insurance Companies Act

Regulations Amending the Insurance Business (Banks) Regulations, Regulations Amending the Insurance Business (Authorized Foreign Bank) Regulations, and Regulations Amending the Insurance Business (Trust and Loan Companies) Regulations, to ensure that the current permitted and prohibited activities of these types of financial institutions extend to the structural arrangements that are permitted under the new holding company regime. Whereas a bank could previously administer group insurance policies for its employees and employees of entities in which it had a substantial investment, they would now be able to administer, for example, such policies for employees of its parent bank holding company. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 25, 2002)

ENVIRONMENT

Order Adding a Toxic Substance to Schedule 1 to the Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999, to propose the addition of Hexachlorobutadiene to the List of Toxic Substances in Schedule 1 to the Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999. A scientific assessment conducted indicates that this substance is entering the environment in a quantity or concentration or under conditions that have or may have an immediate or long-term harmful effect on the environment or its biological diversity. Hexachlorobutadiene, or HCBd, has never been commercially produced in Canada. Formerly, the substance was imported into Canada for use as a solvent, but it is no longer imported. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 1, 2002)

Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999

Export of Substances Under the Rotterdam Convention Regulations, to permit Canada to implement the Rotterdam Convention on the Prior Informed Consent (PIC) Procedure for Certain Hazardous Chemicals and Pesticides in International Trade. The main purpose of the proposed Regulations is to ensure that chemicals and pesticides subject to the PIC procedure are not exported to parties to the Convention, unless the importing Party has provided its "prior informed consent" to the shipment. Canada has also undertaken to ensure that Canadian exporters respect any conditions imposed on the importation of these substances. The proposed Regulations will establish conditions that will apply to the export of substances on Schedule 3 to the Act (the Export Control List). (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 1, 2002)

Proposed Regulations

PARKS

National Parks Businesses Regulations, 1998, amendment, to expand the definition of "business" to include non-profit organizations. Based on concerns raised by the Standing Joint Committee for the Scrutiny of Regulations, the Regulations are being amended to provide clear authority for a park superintendent to issue a business licence under the Regulations and to add a provision establishing a right of appeal where the issue of a business licence is refused or where a business licence that has been issued is suspended or revoked. Amendments are also proposed to adapt to the new terminology used in the Canada National Parks Act, which was brought into force on February 19, 2001. When these amendments are brought into effect, non-profit organizations will be regarded as businesses and will be required to hold a business licence under the Regulations. Like charitable organizations, there will be no charge for these business licences. Representatives of non-profit organizations who apply for a business licence could be denied one in cases where the activities of the organizations are not compatible with the mandate of the national parks as set out in the Canada National Parks Act. Application of the Regulations provides a means to closely control the various activities of these organizations. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 8, 2002)

TRANSPORTATION
	Regulations Amending the Collision Regulations (Manoeuvring and Warning Signals • Canadian Modifications and Blue Flashing Light), to amend Rule 34(k) of Schedule 1, International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea, 1972, with Canadian Modifications, PART D • Sound and Light Signals, Manoeuvring and Warning Signals • Canadian Modifications. The amendment allows ferries, making regular and frequent trips in Canadian waters, not to give a signal of one prolonged blast as currently required. The conditions for this would be if the visibility is good and the master of the ferry has determined that, due to the absence of traffic in the area, the signal is not needed. Where the whistle is sounded routinely as a safety precaution, regardless of the traffic in the area, the master may decide to continue using the whistle signal on departure. In addition, these Regulations amend Rule 45 of Schedule 1 Part F - Additional Canadian Provisions, Blue Flashing Light. Rule 45 allows a "government ship" to exhibit as an identification signal a blue flashing light when providing assistance in a search and rescue (SAR) operation or when engaged in law enforcement activities. The amendment to this Rule allows Canadian Coast Guard Auxiliary (CCGA) vessels to also exhibit the blue flashing light while engaged in SAR activities. Health of Animals Regulations, amendment, to create a third category of eradication area for bovine TB to be known as a TB accredited-advanced area and to establish criteria for this category which would be harmonized with those employed by the USDA; to update the criteria that must be satisfied for an eradication area to be declared a TB-free or TB-accredited area which would harmonize them with those employed by the USDA; to permit the classification of an eradication area's bovine TB status for its farmed cervidae herds, in addition to its bovine (cattle and farmed bison) herds; and to require a permit to move cattle and farmed bison into a TB-free area from an area that is not TB-free, thus establishing movement controls comparable to those in place in the US. The rest of Manitoba will become a TB-free area, together with all other Canadian provinces. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 22, 2002)	Health of Animals Act

FINANCE

Cross-border Currency and Monetary Instruments Reporting Regulations & Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Regulations, amendment, to implement Part II of the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act (PCMLTFA), which requires persons to report to Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) customs officers the importation or exportation of large amounts of currency and monetary instruments. The requirements apply whether the currency or monetary instruments are brought across the border by the importer/exporter himself or herself (e.g., carried in baggage) or they are imported or exported by mail, courier or by any other means. An individual carrying a large amount of currency or monetary instruments will therefore have to file a report to Canadian customs when he or she enters or leaves Canada. The proposed Regulations define the term "monetary instruments" which includes, among other things, stocks, bonds, bank drafts and traveller's cheques. They prescribe the reporting threshold, which is set at $10,000, and the form and manner for reporting to CCRA. They also provide for exceptions from reporting (e.g., where currency or monetary instruments are brought into Canada, but Canada is a transit point rather than the final destination). The proposed Regulations also set at up to 30 days the period for which a customs officer is authorized to retain currency or monetary instruments that a person has declared, but in respect of which a report has not yet been completed. They also prescribe administrative penalties from $250 to $5,000 payable to retrieve seized currency or monetary instruments, provided they are not suspected of being linked to money laundering or terrorist financing. The proposed Regulations also include technical amendments to the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Regulations, to eliminate duplicate provisions and thereby clarify the coming into force date of certain provisions of these Regulations. Proposed Regulations

ENVIRONMENT

International Boundary Waters Regulations, to establish a licencing system for projects affecting waters running along the Canada-United States boundary and rivers flowing into Canada, and (b) prohibit out-of-basin removals from those boundary waters. The proposed regulations outline the information that is to be included in a licence application and oblige the Minister of Foreign Affairs to include applicable conditions in a licence. The proposals elaborate on the prohibition contained in the Act by: limiting the prohibition to removals of waters in bulk; defining bulk water removals as any removals that exceed 50 000 litres per day or removals by diversion; and defining the water basins to which the removal prohibition applies. The proposed regulations ensure that minor removals that may technically fit within the prohibition are excluded from its application for health, safety and humanitarian reasons. These include ballast water, water used for people or goods aboard a conveyance or for the operation of the conveyance, and water used for firefighting or humanitarian purposes. The Regulations make clear that the prohibition applies to both treated and untreated water but does not apply to water contained in manufactured products leaving the basin, including beverages in bottles or packages. FOOD AND DRUG

Food and Drug Regulations (Schedule F), amendment; Order Amending Schedule IV to the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act; and Regulations Amending the Benzodiazepines and Other Targeted Substances Regulations (1091), to add three drugs, zaleplon, zolpidem, and zopiclone, to the list of substances controlled under the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA) and the Benzodiazepines and Other Targeted Substances Regulations (1091) (Targeted Substances Regulations). Zaleplon, zolpidem and zopiclone belong to a class of drugs referred to as non-benzodiazepine hypnotics. They are used in the short-term treatment and symptomatic relief of insomnia in patients who have difficulty falling asleep. While zaleplon, zolpidem, and zopiclone have a chemical structure that is unrelated to the benzodiazepines, they have similar pharmacological properties. Clinical studies have indicated that these drugs also have an abuse potential comparable to benzodiazepine and benzodiazepine-like hypnotics among known sedative users. TRANSPORTATION

Canadian Aviation Regulations (Part III), amendment, and Canadian Aviation Regulations (Part VI), amendment, to amend Part III (Aerodromes and Airports) section 303.04 (Hours of Operation of an Aircraft Fire-fighting Service) and Part VI (General Operating and Flight Rules) section 602.96 (General) to clarify the circumstances under which an aircraft which would otherwise require a fire-fighting service to be available may be operated at a designated airport (one of the 28 airports listed in the Schedule to Sub-part 3 of Part III) when such a service is not provided. The proposed introduction of a new subsection to section 602.96 will set forth the responsibilities of a flight crew member and an air operator or a private operator with respect to the provisions of section 303.04. In addition, these proposed amendments include a request to add "rescue" to the title of Subpart 3 (Aircraft Fire Fighting at Airports and Aerodromes) of Part III of the Canadian Aviation Regulations (CARs). They, also, propose to amend other sections of Subpart 3 to ensure information related to any deficiencies in the aircraft fire-fighting (AFF) service is disseminated promptly, and to ease the requirements bearing on the provision of AFF service, where possible. Regulations Amending the Canadian Aviation Regulations (Part I), to revise the existing definitions of "day" and "night" in section 101.01 Interpretation of Part I General Provisions of the Canadian Aviation Regulations (CARs). To avoid ambiguity, in English, the proposed English definition of "day" will be revised to refer to "day or daylight". "Day or daylight" will be defined as "the time between the beginning of morning civil twilight and the end of evening civil twilight". Since the use of "night", involves no such ambiguity, "night" will be defined as "the time between the end of evening civil twilight and the beginning of morning civil twilight". The two amendments proposed for Part IV (Personnel Licensing and Training) will clarify the examination time limits pertinent to applicants for aircraft maintenance engineer licences in section 400.03 (Time Limits) and, in section 403.08 (Approved Training Organizations), will introduce a requirement that the Minister of Transport approve a training control manual when it meets the prescribed requirements. The two amendments being proposed for Part V (Airworthiness) will remove existing limitations on who may apply for an additional flight authority in section 507.08 (Issuance of Additional Flight Authority) and will correct the wording of the French text in section 571.10 (Maintenance Release) to be consistent with the wording of the English text in that section. FINANCE

	Access to Basic Banking Services Regulations, Foreign Institutions Subject to Canadian Residency Requirements Regulations (Insurance Companies), and Foreign Institutions Subject to Canadian Residency Requirements Regulations (Trust and Loan Companies) , to implement changes to the regulatory framework for the financial services sector. The Access to Basic Services Regulations define the conditions that an individual must meet to open a retail account and the conditions that a non-customer of a CDIC member bank must meet to cash certain federal government cheques; they set out the circumstances under which the requirements to open a retail deposit account or cash certain government cheques do not apply. In addition, a CDIC member bank must publicly disclose the conditions for opening a retail deposit account or cashing certain government cheques. The Regulations also require a bank to provide written notice when it refuses to open a retail deposit account or cash	Bank Act certain government cheques. The two other Regulations allow Canadian insurers and trust and loan companies owned by foreign financial holding companies to meet a requirement that only 50 percent of their board be Canadian residents, putting these institutions on an equal footing with Canadian insurers and trust and loan companies owned by foreign financial institutions. Regulations Amending the Canadian Aviation Regulations (Part V), to clarify certain existing requirements and introduce a record keeping requirement for approved maintenance organizations (AMOs). A proposed amendment to section 571.02 will specify that, when a measuring device or test equipment is being used and calibration requirements have been published by the manufacturer of the device or equipment, the person who is using the device or equipment must ensure that it is calibrated by means traceable to a national standard. At present, this section requires only that the calibration must be performed in conformity with a national standard. The proposed wording is more precise and will lead to greater accuracy in calibrating measuring devices or test equipment used in aircraft maintenance work. A proposed editorial change in section 571.06 (Repairs and Modifications) will replace the provision that prohibits the making of a part to be offered for sale by stating specifically that a part may only be made for installation by the person or organization who made the part. The proposed revisions to Schedule II of Subpart 71 will detail what work on avionics equipment and in the maintenance of instruments is not considered to be specialized maintenance and, therefore, need not be performed in accordance with the provisions of section 571.04. An information note will be added to Standard section 571.04 (Specialized Maintenance) to clarify the proposed revisions to Schedule II with respect to avionics equipment. A proposed new section 573.15 (Technical Records) with an accompanying Standard section 573.15 will introduce a requirement for an AMO certificate holder to maintain records for work which is performed by the organization on aeronautical products. The records will have to be kept for at least two years beginning on the date that the maintenance release was signed. The accompanying Standard will set forth the details of which records must be retained and under what conditions. At present, there is no requirement under the CARs or associated standards for AMOs to retain records of the work which they perform on aeronautical products. Proposed Regulations

Federal Halocarbon Regulations, 2002, to replace the current Federal Halocarbon Regulations, to implement regulatory measures to achieve an orderly transition from CFCs and Halons to alternative substances and technologies, as per Canada's Strategy to Accelerate the Phase-Out of CFC and Halon Uses and to Dispose of the Surplus Stocks, and to address administrative issues that have been identified concerning the current Regulations. The proposed Regulations are essentially the same as the existing Federal Halocarbon Regulations, with the exception of the implementation of new initiatives under Canada's Ozone Layer Protection Program. The changes include: prohibiting charging mobile refrigeration systems with CFCs effective three months after the coming into force of these Regulations; prohibiting charging refrigeration systems with CFCs effective January 1, 2005; prohibiting charging air conditioning systems with CFCs effective January 1, 2005; prohibiting charging of chillers with CFCs at the next major overhaul of the chiller effective 2005; prohibiting charging chillers with CFCs effective 2015; prohibiting charging fixed fire extinguishing systems, (hereinafter 1301 Total Flooding Systems) with Halons effective January 1, 2005. (The Minister could grant a refill permit on the condition that the system is replaced with an alternative within a year from the date of issuance of the permit. This provision would expire December 31, 2009. Effective January 1, 2010, charges would be prohibited. This prohibition is subject to critical use exemptions; amending the application section to reflect Part 9 under the Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999 so that the proposed Regulations would apply to departments, boards and agencies of the Government of Canada, to federal works and undertakings, to aboriginal land, federal land, persons on that land and other persons in so far as their activities involve these lands, and to Crown corporations, as defined in subsection 83(1) of the Financial Administration Act; and adding bromochloromethane (Halon 1011) to the list of controlled substances as per Canada's international commitments. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 7, 2002)

Solvent Degreasing Regulations, to reduce releases of trichloroethylene (TCE) and tetrachloroethylene (PERC) into the environment from solvent degreasing facilities using more than 1 000 kilograms of TCE and PERC per year. These proposed Regulations would establish tradable allowances for the use of TCE and PERC in solvent degreasing operations that exceed the 1 000 kilograms threshold per year. When the proposed Regulations come into force, affected solvent degreasing users who wish to continue using these solvents will require an annual allowance. This allowance will be based on historical use. Prior to these proposed Regulations coming into force, the Government will calculate for each affected user a baseline for TCE and PERC, based on average use during three consecutive calendar years between January 1, 1994 and December 31, 2002. This baseline will be determined from data submitted by users. The baseline will be used to calculate each affected solvent degreaser's annual allowance. The allowance for the 2004, 2005, and 2006 calendar years would be frozen at this level. The allowance for 2007 and subsequent years would be reduced by 65 percent. No allowance would be issued without a baseline. As noted, any quantity of solvent recycled or reclaimed on-site would not be considered as a quantity used under the allowance. Additionally, unexpended allowances could be transferred between users following notification of the proposed transfer. Affected solvent degreasing users will be required to report the quantities of TCE and PERC used or transferred to other users in their annual reports. They would also be required to maintain and keep records as required. Sellers of these solvents would be required to submit annual reports on sales of TCE and PERC to all solvent degreasers and maintain required records. Proposed Regulations

ENERGY

Regulations Amending the Electricity and Gas Inspection Regulations, to prescribe a third means of establishing a supercompressibility factor for a limited range of line pressures below or equal to 30 psig. To ensure that accuracy in measurement is maintained, a companion amendment would introduce additional contractor record-keeping provisions. The proposed modification that was drafted in consultation with stakeholders would allow for a cost-effective means of establishing a supercompressibility factor for the lower line pressures (below 30 psig) that do not warrant purchasing the monitoring equipment required for higher pressures. Doing so would ensure that acceptable levels of measurement accuracy can be met at lower line pressures. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 14, 2002)	Electricity and Gas Inspection Act
Regulations Amending the Energy Efficiency Regulations, to increase the stringency of the existing energy efficiency standards for fluorescent lamp ballasts ("ballasts"), room air conditioners and 60 to 66 Watt PAR lamps. It introduces new standards for BR and ER incandescent reflector lamps and dry-type transformers. The amendment will also update the energy performance test procedures referenced for general service fluorescent lamps and motors and introduce minor changes to dishwasher and model number definitions and to annual energy consumption calculations. The revisions to the standards for ballasts, reflector lamps, room air conditioners and dishwashers are, with some minor differences, consistent with the standards currently in effect in the United States. 	Regulations Amending the Regulations Amending the Nova Scotia Off-shore Certificate of Fitness Regulations, to update the list of prescribed certifying authorities set in the Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Certificate of Fitness Regulations. The regulatory amendments will ensure that the list of prescribed certifying authorities reflects those companies that are competent and willing to provide certificates of fitness, as required by the Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Resources Accord Implementation Act. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 14, 2002)	Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Resources Accord Implementation Act
	Regulations Amending the Gasoline Regulations, to allow an exemption, until January 1, 2008, with respect to gasoline for use in competition vehicles from the otherwise applicable restrictions on the concentration of lead in gasoline specified in the Regulations. Leaded gasoline production, importation and sale has been prohibited, for the most part, under the Gasoline Regulations since December 1, 1990. Approximately one million litres of leaded racing fuel were imported into Canada in 2001. This represents less than 0.01 percent of the 36 billion litres of gasoline (mostly unleaded) used annually in Canada. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 14, 2002)	Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999
TRANSPORTATION
	Regulations Amending the Motor Vehicle Safety Regulations (Fuel System Integrity), to propose an upgrade to the rear- and side-impact test requirements of the Canada Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (CMVSS) 301, Fuel System Integrity, to better protect vehicle occupants from fuel spillage in the event of a collision. Changes are also being proposed to the specifications of the tires installed on the moveable barrier mentioned in CMVSS 301.1, LPG Fuel System Integrity and 301.2, CNG Fuel System Integrity. This amendment proposes to replace the current rear-impact test procedure with one that specifies striking the rear of the test vehicle at 80 km/h with a 1 368 kg (3 015 lb.) moving deformable barrier (MDB) at a 70-percent overlap with the test vehicle. The MDB face would be located 50 mm lower than the face of the barrier required by U.S. Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) 214, Side Impact Protection to simulate pre-crash braking. U.S. Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) 214, Side Impact Protection. It also proposes the adoption of the same-side-impact test procedure as the one specified in FMVSS 214. This is intended to provide a more realistic test, thus increasing safety while reducing testing costs. In addition, this amendment proposes a revision to the moving barrier tire specifications for CMVSS 301.1 and 301.2. The proposed upgraded tire specifications are either P215/75R15 tires, inflated to 221 kPa, or P205/75R15 tires, inflated to 207 kPa. The final decision on the size of the tires to be specified will be made based on the comments received following pre-publication in the Canada Gazette. Proposed Regulations

EMPLOYMENT

Employment Insurance Regulations , amendment, to introduce a new requirement to include an expiry date on 900-series Social Insurance Numbers (SIN). These amendments are generally to enhance the security of the SIN program and reduce the possibility of the SIN being used for illegal purposes or for purposes for which it is not authorized by federal legislation or regulations or for a purpose to which the authority to allow use of the SIN has been delegated to the Treasury Board. There are also a few editorial amendments being proposed to the regulation. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 21, 2002)	Employment Insurance Act

FINANCE

Information Technology Activities (Authorized Foreign Banks) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Bank Holding Companies) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Banks) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Canadian Societies) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Cooperative Credit Associations) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Foreign Banks) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Insurance Holding Companies) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Life Companies) Regulations; Information Technology Activities (Property and Casualty Companies) Regulations; and Information Technology Activities (Trust and Loan Companies) Regulations , to ease the restrictions on how financial institutions can engage in information technology activities in a financial context. The proposed regulations ease these constraints by reducing the current "primarily financial" standard to a new "materially related" standard. In addition, the regulations also provide financial institutions with added flexibility to make investments in entities that do not necessarily meet the materially-related standard, provided that the size of these investments falls below a certain size threshold.
